Last week marked Kevin Robertson's 20th anniversary as the executive director for the Kansas Dental Association. He joined the KDA in November 1997.

Kevin has a passion for the oral health of older adults, and he co-founded a group called Promoting Oral Health of Elderly Kansans several years ago in order to ensure stakeholders focus on this important

Join the KanCare Adult Dental Coalition

This week Oral Health Kansas is launching a new coalition to advocate for a comprehensive adult dental benefits in the Kansas Medicaid program known as KanCare. This new KanCare Adult Dental Coalition offers advocacy, health, and other organizations the opportunity to join a growing chorus calling for full dental benefits to be offered to low-income adults through Medicaid. Coalition members will have access to talking points they can use when talking with stakeholders, legislators, managed care organizations, and other policymakers about the value of dental benefits for all people enrolled in KanCare.

population. Kevin helped create the Kansas Mission of Mercy event, the KIND loan repayment program for new dentists, and countless policies and laws that have improved oral health care delivery for Kansans.

Kevin has served on the Oral Health Kansas board of directors since 2003, and he was a member of the first Dental Champions. Congratulations on this milestone anniversary!

Latino children have a higher percentage of untreated dental caries

A higher proportion of Hispanic children in the U.S. ages 2 to 8 have untreated dental caries in their primary teeth compared with non-Hispanic white children

Researchers conducted focus groups with Latino parents to explore factors that influence the oral health of their children and develop strategies for improving it. Their findings were released in March 2017. Click here to find out what their results showed!

Senate holds Medicaid expansion hearings

This week, the Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee held two days of hearings on HB 2044, which is the bill that would expand the Kansas Medicaid program. The bill passed the House in February by a vote of 81 to 44.

The hearings were similar to those held in the House earlier this year, and over 100 individuals and organizations, including Oral Health Kansas, provided testimony in favor of Medicaid expansion once again. A physician from Dodge City gave a powerful testimonial about the importance of expanding coverage to more low-income Kansans. He said he does everything he can to help as many as 30 or 40 people in his office each day, but the members of the Committee would be able to help 150,000 people simply by passing the bill.

Former Senate President and Ways and Means Chair Dave Kerr was among the conferees assuring that expanding Medicaid to as many as 150,000 uninsured working adults will more than

Tobacco Treatment Specialist Training

The University of Kansas Medical Center is partnering with Shawnee County Health Department to bring the highly reputable Tobacco Treatment Specialist (TTS) training.

The training is an intensive 3 ½ day, evidence-based training program designed for persons who deliver moderate to intensive tobacco treatment services.

pay for itself. Wichita Regional Chamber of Commerce CEO Gary Plummer told Committee members that passing Medicaid expansion represents pro-growth economic policy for the Wichita area and the state.

The Public Health and Welfare Committee is set to vote on the bill later this week. The Kansas Legislature is considering Medicaid expansion at the same time Congress is considering legislation that would repeal and replace the Affordable Care Act. The federal legislation has changed from last week to this week, and it is likely to continue to change as it moves through the legislative process. The proposed replacement legislation includes a plan to dramatically change the Medicaid program and to possibly eliminate Medicaid expansion for the states. Read more about the Medicaid expansion hearings this week from Kansas Public Radio and Kansas News Service. Families USA developed an analysis of the proposed federal repeal and replace legislation. The US House of Representatives may vote on the bill early next week.
