Fourteen Safety-net Clinics to Help with Exchange Enrollment

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has announced that fourteen Kansas community health centers will receive a total of $1.6 million to help Kansans enroll in health insurance through the Exchange.

According to the Kansas Health Institute News Service, federal officials said the money would be used to hire up to 32 new outreach workers who are expected to help more than 25,000 Kansans enroll in health coverage plans. The health insurance exchange, or marketplace, is scheduled to be operational Oct. 1 with coverage for enrollees effective Jan. 1, 2014. The community health centers were selected to help with enrollment because of their significant experience working with under-served people who are likely to be uninsured.

The selected Kansas health centers collectively offer services at 49 sites in the following communities:

"Thanks to Linda's leadership Delta Dental of Kansas has strengthened its position as the state's dental benefits leader, and we've been able to donate millions of dollars to provide oral health care to underserved Kansans. Linda has championed our brand through evolving markets, economic swings, and regulatory reforms, making Delta Dental of Kansas a household name. She will be greatly missed."
