Vitamins and how they help your oral health

Are you eating enough vitamins? Vitamins can help you with your oral health. We all want a beautiful smile and need to take care of our teeth. Here are some vitamins that will help with just that! Now you will know which foods to eat and what to drink that can be good for you in many ways!

Sugary Drink Display

Last week we attended a conference and had lots of attendees stop to ask about our sugary drink display. This also gave us the opportunity to educate on healthy sips and acid attacks.

Our sugary drink display contains 10 popular beverages and shows how much sugar is in each. The display is free to use, we reimburse postage. You must sign up to reserve a sugary drink display. Slots fill up fast so if you need it for a specific date, please check in with us in plenty of time.

To find out more about our conference visit our website. You will also find information on how to be an exhibitor.

Fun experiments on oral health

We tell our kids to brush for two minutes. But do they understand why we should? To help kids understand we need to explain in terms they can relate to here are some fun experiments you can do with your kids. The experiments are in both English and Spanish.

Doing some of these activities might make it more fun when it's time to brush and the kids will understand why it's so important!
