Correction

In last week's Weekly Wednesday Update a list of 8 things you didn't know about toothpaste was given with incorrect information.

Item #5 stated:

Annual Excellence in Oral Health Awards

PLEASE NOMINATE SOMEONE TODAY!

Do you know of an individual who is a community leader in oral health? Maybe you know a clinician or organization that has made a positive impact?

Please let us know.

This year Oral Health Kansas will be presenting awards for Excellence in Oral Health at our annual conference in December. The awards will be made in the following categories:

- Outstanding Organization
- Outstanding Dental Hygiene Clinician*
- Outstanding Dentist Clinician*
- Outstanding Community Leader
- Outstanding Policy Maker
- Outstanding Oral Health Volunteer*

*These awards are new in 2010. The Outstanding Clinician Award was available in previous years, but did not distinguish between dental hygienists and dentist.

It doesn't matter the type of brush or the kind of toothpaste you are using. If you are properly brushing your teeth, you won't see results and could end up with cavities and poor oral health.

It should have read: It doesn't matter the type of brush or the kind of toothpaste you are using. If you aren't properly brushing your teeth, you won't see results and could end up with cavities and poor oral health.

We apologize for any confusion with the unfortunate typo in last week's Weekly Wednesday Update.
